

BUSINESS LITIGATION

Henson Efron business litigation attorneys represent corporations, partnerships, limited liability partnerships, trusts, and individuals in a wide range of complex civil and commercial litigation matters. We represent clients in all forums and in all types of cases, including arbitrations, multi-district and multi-state litigation, governmental regulatory, administrative actions, and a variety of state and federal court actions in jurisdictions throughout the country. We have experience in general commercial disputes, construction litigation, corporate control contests, environmental proceedings, purchase-of-business disputes, fiduciary duties, securities and trusts.
